

To Whom It May Concern,

As Artistic Director of American Repertory Ballet, I am writing to recommend Jeymy Ramos for your company. I have had the pleasure of working with Jeymy for two seasons as a Trainee of ARB. She is a technically strong, dedicated dancer with a beautiful quality of movement. In her work ethic, she is respectful and responsible and extremely committed.

Jeymy works quietly, but consistently and shows both perseverance and determination. She goes above and beyond to accomplish her goals and accomplishes this with ease. Her quiet demeanor belies a confidence that allows her to shine while bringing to her work a graceful and gracious artistic quality,

During her time at ARB, Jeymy has performed with the company in corps de ballet roles and has proven to be a strong asset. She fits in beautifully with the company and is respected among her peers. Her dedication and sense of responsibility gives you the confidence to trust her. Her work in the studio and on stage has been consistent and she is always ready and prepared for whatever is asked of her. She performed successfully within the corps de ballet roles as well as the soloist roles she performed at the Trainee level. She did all of this while consistently engaging well with both the artistic staff and her fellow dancers.

I am thrilled with Jeymy's progress. Her commitment to the company, the repertoire and her training has been admirable and I am confident that with her eagerness to improve and grow, she will be a true asset for your company.

Sincerely,
